

LOVELESS

2025 PINOT NOIR

Tasmania, with it's cold, dry climate is an outstanding place to grow Pinot Noir. When presented with the opportunity to create a wine from young plantings in the Coal River Valley the Tolpuddle Vineyard Team jumped at the chance. The result is a bright, fresh, delicious Tasmanian Pinot Noir.

Lifted aromatics, with boysenberry, blackberry and bramble. Red fruits and subtle baking spice lead to a supple palate with soft, gentle tannins. Ready to drink from the outset.

The wine takes its name from George Loveless, leader of the famous Tolpuddle Martyrs.

Loveless, sent as a convict to Australia, did labour in southern Tasmania, on a property, part of which is now home to the Tolpuddle Vineyard
